

Take this quiz to find out what types of volunteer work you may be most suited to. There are no wrong answers, and you may find that you fit into more than one category.

Quiz: What's your interest?

1) My idea of a fun Saturday morning is:

- a) playing with my dog
- b) planting flowers in my garden
- c) cooking breakfast
- d) reading a mystery book

5) If I saw someone being bullied I'd most likely:

- a) come to their rescue
- b) tell a teacher
- c) write a letter to the school board
- d) hand out leaflets to try to stop the problem

2) My best friends would describe me as:

- a) kind to animals
- b) crabby to people who don't recycle
- c) quiet and shy
- d) talkative and outgoing

6) If I could change only one thing about the world there'd be no more:

- a) war
- b) global warming
- c) hunger
- d) crime

3) When I grow up I want to be:

- a) a journalist
- b) a teacher
- c) a social worker
- d) the president

7) I wish more people would:

- a) be nice to each other
- b) stop littering
- c) give to the poor
- d) quit smoking

4) One of the things I do best is:

- a) give people second chances
- b) solve problems
- c) follow directions
- d) lead a team

8) If I were an animal I'd be a:

- a) peaceful dove
- b) wise owl
- c) worker bee
- d) lion—when I roar, people listen!

Turn the page to score your quiz!

TIP: Use this quiz at your meeting and when new members join.

Quiz Scoring:

If you answered mostly A's you scored the highest in the area of animals, human rights, tolerance, and kindness. Ideas for action: Adopt a homeless animal from a shelter; ask an elderly neighbor if he needs help taking out the trash, walking his dog, or shoveling snow; volunteer to teach senior citizens how to use computers so they can email family; donate canned goods to the food bank; encourage others to be tolerant of people who are different.

If you answered mostly B's you are most passionate about the environment and causes related to education. Ideas for action: Plant a tree; organize a recycling program at your school; tutor someone who needs help in a subject you're good at; collect school supplies for students who need them; write an article about the endangered rain forest for your school newsletter.

If you answered mostly C's you are someone who wants to make an impact on others. Take action against causes such as hunger, poverty, and homelessness. Ideas for action: Volunteer at a soup kitchen or bake cookies for the hungry; organize a drive to collect shoes for kids who can't afford them; collect sweaters or scarves and donate them to a homeless shelter.

If you answered mostly D's you are a leader who likes to influence others. Have you ever thought of public speaking? Taking action against crime and substance abuse may be a passion for you. Ideas for action: Organize a violence awareness week at school; pledge not to smoke or drink; volunteer to help local police organizations; clean up graffiti in your neighborhood.